

Nacimiento (Nativity), Nicaragua

'I come to tell them that in Nicaragua the new man had been born'

This is the message carried across the sky by the angel. The holy family are depicted under a temporary looking shelter – notice the animals; some are traditional to a nativity scene and others are clearly from America!

The banner announcing the 'new man' reminds us of the Revolutionary struggle that has been part of here; there is hope that the new man will bring about the needed change in a poor and troubled country.